

Exercises

→ Grammar book p. 149-150

- 1 Fais des prédictions sur l'avenir du monde en te servant de ces idées ou en en trouvant d'autres.

In the future, I think ... / I don't think ...

- men / live / the moon
- children / study / home / computers
- ocean currents / produce / electricity
- more doctors / use / plants / to cure people
- people / reduce / pollution
- little green men / Mars / visit / the Earth

Pour formuler des prédictions, on utilise :

will + BV

- 2 On utilise will ou won't très souvent dans la vie courante. Recopie ces phrases en les complétant logiquement.

- This jigsaw is too difficult for you. You ... finish it tonight!
- I bet Jake ... be late again! He always is.
- You ... never believe it! Granny's learning to drive!
- No mum, I ... forget to write. I promise.

- 3 Tu connais plusieurs façons de parler de l'avenir. Réécris ces phrases en choisissant en fonction de la situation.

- In 2012, you (be) 21!
- a) Nonsense! People (never use) flying cars.
- b) The concert (start) at 8pm.
- b) Janet's plane (leave) at 11.13 tomorrow.
- c) I must go! I (meet) my new boss at 3.
- c) No, sorry, we can't come on Sunday. We (practise) for the championship.
- d) Hey! You are driving too fast! You (have) an accident!
- d) I want to get a good mark so I (work) hard for the next Maths test.

Pour parler de l'avenir, on peut utiliser :

- le présent simple
- le présent be -ing
- be going to
- will

- 4 Jack et Sonia se disent au revoir à la gare. Sonia est distraite et désorganisée. Sauras-tu recopier ses répliques dans l'ordre logique de la conversation ?

Jack: Bye then. You won't forget to phone me tomorrow, will you?

Jack: Remember to phone me tomorrow!

Jack: I can't believe it. I gave it to you this morning. It's 078451254.

Jack: Use your mobile.

Jack: Sonia!!!

Sonia: OK, but I haven't got your new phone number.

Sonia: Er, sorry, what did you just say? I wasn't listening.

Sonia: Good idea!... Oh no! It isn't working!

Sonia: Hey, just a minute! I can't find my pen.

- 5 The Word Corner: "Jobs"

Observe ces illustrations et devine les métiers correspondants. En connais-tu d'autres ?

Mémorise ton vocabulaire grâce aux fiches et activités : "Jobs"

